

Liqueur is a diverse category, endowed with vivid and sacred traditions; often with recipes that are closely guarded secrets. Most countries have their own national liqueur, masterfully embodying the essence of their origins. Most often liqueurs are spirit based and infused with fruit, woods, herbs, nuts, spices, flowers or cream.

